THE VISITING FIREMEN-ARRIVAL OF THE STEAM ENGINE, &c .- The Columbia and Good Will Volunteer Fire Companies, of Allentown. Pa., will arrive here to morrow morning, recompanied by the Allentown Cornet Band, 30 pieces, and a number of citzens of that place with their ladies. Graen's Mansien House will be the headquarters of the visitors during their stay in the city. An interesting programme is being arranged for their entertainment by the Alexandria firemen. The steam fire engine of the Good Wil Company striesd here over the Baltimore and Potomac Bailroad about eight o'clock Saturday Light, in charge of Charles Scholl, firemen of the Columbia Company, and C. Kneuss, driver of the Good Will Company. A number of the firemen of the city were on hand to meet the engine, and it was immedistely taken to the neuse of the Hydranlian Steam Fire Company, where it was admired by a large crowd. The engine is a handsome piece of machinery. It is a nickle plated, Silaby rotary engine, weighing sixty-five hundred and sixty s x pounds. Notwithstanding it is much larger than the Hydraulien engine it weighs nearly three hundred pounds lest.

The committees of the fire companies of the city met Saturday night in joint convention in the hall of the Ralief Hook and Lidder Company to perfect the arrangements for the entertaitment of the visiting firemen. The joint convention will meet again to night.

The citizers are requested to decerate their residences along the route of parade, which takes place to morrow afternoon at four o'clock

Cured of Drinking.

"A young friend of mine was cured of an Insatiable thirst for liquor, which had so prostrated him that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hep Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor, made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups; I know of a number of others that have been cured of drink by it."-From a leading R. sold from 80 down to 771 with a subsequent raily to 552. There was very little demand for Con-sols, and they yielded quickly to small sales. As we have explained before, the strength of Consols heretofore has been in the large orders to buy for foreign account. If this support were withdrawn, which the course of the market during the past week would indicate, Consols would undoubtedly decline, and we would not be sur-prised to see them sell at 70 or lower. It is retimated that more than one haif of the $14,00,000 Consols are held abroad. Up to the present time there are no signs of any orders to soil from this direction, and we have no doubt that the great majority of them will be permanently held, but there are no doubt large amounts of them which have been purchased speculatively, and which may be sant over for sale. In the present condition of our market any attempt to sell would cause a quick and decided break in prices. Ton Forties are held principally at home that is, in this country, (unfortunately very few, if any of the Virginia bonds are held in that State) but they are selling at comparatively low figures, and there is less room for a decline than in Consols so they are held with more confidence.

cular of Saturday says: Since our last writing, Virginia securities of all classes have been weaker, and upon but small sales have declined considerably. During the political campaign there seems but little disposition to buy, and unless fresh orders come from abroad, it is not likely that they will show much strength until there is a general rally in the entire market. Peelers seem more strutty in the en-tire market. Peelers seem more strutty in-tained than any of the others, as it is generally believed that they are favorably regarded by both parties, and that even if the Re-adjusters come into power, something substantial will be dome for these much neglected creditors who have been without their interest so long, while the en-vid Consols and Ten-Forties have been injoying the advantages of the self collecting coupons There is now nearly half a million of money in the State Tressury, and what better could be done with it than to pay a part, at least, to these un-fortunate bondholders, most of whom are proba-bly our own people and many widows and orphans in dire need of their interest. Additional strength is given these bonds also by the fact that there is so small an amount outstanding— less than two and a half millions—all of the others having been heretofore retired and cancelled through the operations of the Sinking Fund, and also by the expectation that the next Legislature also by the expectation that the next Legislature whether Funder or Keadjuster, will give authority for converting all of the assets of the Sinking Fund into money—they would now realize about two millions of dollars—to be used in retiring the whole of these bonds and other obligations of the State. We think the bonds of all classes are desirable purchases at present prices, as necially Paelers and Ten-Korting and that especially Peelers and Ten-Forties and that those who buy now will be able to sell at much better prices in the Fall. It is possible that Consols may decline somewhat farther, but we expect to see Ten-Forties pect to see Ten-Forties steady and Peelers ad-vaccing within the near luture.
